You are invited to join us for four value-packed days of learning, networking and fun...all in sunny Long Beach, California, just minutes from Los Angeles. That's just a taste of what's in store for you when you attend the AHCA/NCAL 61st Annual Convention & Expo.

Value, Value, and More Value!

By attending this year's event, you'll get:

- Information-packed educational forums, plus the administrative tools that enhance quality at every level.
- Long term care professional skills to further serve the nation's senior and disabled residents, as well as others requiring care.
- Opportunities to network with others in the profession for peer-to-peer learning.
- Renewed passion and commitment to the long term care community.

There's Something for Everyone

Learn and network with your most distinguished colleagues—Administrators, CEOs, CPOs, COOs of regional facilities and multifacilities, Directors of Nursing, those who provide residential services to individuals with developmental disabilities, Assisted Living staff, and leaders from a wide range of other specialties within the long term care profession. Providers will find valuable information from more than 60 education sessions, spread across 13 learning tracks. All sessions are designed to provide you with up-to-date, results-oriented information—an important factor in today's changing economy.
